Ohio Attorney General Launches New Program To Help Small Businesses

One year ago my office launched a new program to help small businesses and nonprofits recover money lost to deceptive business practices and scammers. So far we have been able to help more than 1,250 Ohio small businesses recover or save more than $115,000.

Most small businesses have 20 or fewer employees and lack the resources to hire legal help to take action against a person or business that has mistreated them. For more than 35 years, the Attorney General's Office has helped consumers protect themselves from businesses or individuals who try to exploit them, and we now can do the same thing for small businesses and nonprofits.

Here are some examples of what we have seen:

- A Trotwood trucking company arranged to buy a truck from a Texas company for $8,250. But nearly two months later, the truck still hadn't been delivered as the supplier had promised. An Attorney General's Office complaint specialist spoke with the seller and nine days later the business owner received the title and arranged for the truck's delivery.

- When an employee of a natural products shop in Central Ohio confirmed the store's address for a caller, she unknowingly opened the door to a phone directory advertising dispute. The Attorney General's Office intervened, and the New York company that billed the business $499 agreed to resolve the complaint.
- A library staff member in Madison County turned to the Ohio Attorney General's Office for help when she discovered the library's phone bill included $279.60 in unauthorized charges. A complaint specialist contacted the company that tacked on the fees, which were for an allegedly free Web service trial offer the library didn't cancel. The library disputed the allegation, and the firm credited the library's phone bill.

If you think your business or nonprofit has been targeted, file a complaint with my office at www.OhioAttorneyGeneral.gov/Complaint.

The top complaints we have seen that you should be aware of include:

- Phony "yellow page" advertisements
- Unauthorized charges on telephone bills
- Bogus Internet and website services
- Extra fees from credit card payment processors
- Unauthorized credit card charges
- Failure to receive a service or product

If your small business or you, as a consumer, have experienced unfair practices such as a scam, deceptive advertising, shoddy workmanship, a billing dispute, unauthorized charges or any illegal conduct, please contact my office at (800) 282-0515 or by visiting www.OhioAttorneyGeneral.gov/Complaint.

For more information about the Attorney General's Small Business and Nonprofit Complaint program, please visit www.OhioAttorneyGeneral.gov/BusinessComplaintsFactsheet.

Martha "Betty" Shepard-Behm
Class of 1937
will be inducted to the
Perry High School
Distinguished Alumni
Hall of Fame
Class of 2010

Betty was raised on the family farm on Shepard Road in Perry, Ohio. She attended Central School of Practical Nursing after graduating from Perry High School and then worked as a practical nurse.

Married on December 24, 1941 to Wilford N. Behm, together they operated the family businesses, The Behm Funeral Home, the ambulance service and grape farm, until Wilford's untimely death in 1961. Betty then took over the helm of those businesses while raising five children and making sure they all graduated from college. This year marks her 69th year actively involved in funeral service with The Behm Family Funeral Homes. Betty served 25 years on the Madison Library Board where her tenure was highlighted with the construction of the new library on Middle Ridge. She was a founding member of the Madison-Perry Area Chamber of Commerce and served as secretary of the Tri-County Funeral Directors for many years. She was a driving force in the construction of the Wesley Wing at Park United Methodist Church. Betty is also a proud supporter of the Rabbit Run Community Arts Association, Perry Library, and Perry United Methodist Church.

She has always excelled at being a role model for women in business. Most of all her mission continues to be to support and encourage the people she meets every day.

Congratulations to Betty Behm
